COURSE SYLLABUS

I. Course Catalog Description

This course teaches learners how to apply an information security management plan to an organization's enterprise systems, including integrating physical and digital security technologies into an enterprise security system that meets the requirements of an organizational information security plan and its policies. Prerequisite: SMGT320

II. Required and Supplementary Instructional Materials

Iannarelli, J. G., & O'Shaughnessy, M. O. (2015). Information governance and security: Protecting and managing your company's proprietary information. Waltham, MA: Butterworth Heinemann, Elsevier.

van Wyk, K. R., Graff, M. G., Peters, D. S., & Burley, D. L. (2015). Enterprise software security: A confluence of disciplines. Upper Saddle River, NJ: Pearson Education.

III. Course Delivery

There are two forms of course delivery Ground and Online:

Ground courses, or those that meet face-to-face on a weekly basis, also have an online component, which means some of the course content is delivered online. Southwestern College utilizes the Blackboard (Bb) learning management system.

Online courses typically contain a blend of synchronous (real-time) and asynchronous (not real-time) material. Depending on the course, you may be required at times to interact "live," which might mean attending a scheduled Collaborate session. You may also be required to view or listen to a lecture or other video on a specific date and time. Of course, if there are circumstances that prohibit you from logging in to a scheduled synchronous activity, an alternate assignment will be provided. Please refer to the Course at a Glance section which will note any synchronous activities.

IV. Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes describe the knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes that learners gain as the result of a particular learning experience. Southwestern College Professional Studies has learning outcomes specific to each course and each undergraduate and graduate program of study, as well as institution-wide outcomes related to the mission and vision of the college. Outcomes can help learners and instructors focus on the big picture of the learning experience and can help inform potential employers about a graduate's knowledge and skills.

Upon successfully completing this course, the learner will be able to:

- Explain the strategic importance of effective, interdisciplinary, and multifunctional enterprise information security governance and information security management program and its execution. (PO 1)
- Compare various types of enterprise information security governance structures, enterprise information security management programs, and their critical components. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3)
- Differentiate between stakeholder groups and their respective roles, investment, and interest in an effective enterprise information security management program. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3)

- Contrast enterprise information security management strategies related to people, processes, software, hardware, and networking. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3)
- Assess the ethical, social, environmental, and risk considerations for enterprise information security governance, and developing and executing an enterprise information security management program. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3, PO 4)
- Evaluate the effectiveness and potential application of multiple information security governance structures and information security management programs for variant enterprise scenarios with consideration for strategic, operational, ethical, social, environmental, and risk factors. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3, PO 4)
- Recommend a plan for the adoption, integration, implementation, and maintenance of an information security governance structure and information security management program for an enterprise scenario with consideration for strategic, operational, ethical, social, environmental, and risk factors. (PO 1, PO 2, PO 3, PO 4, PO 5)

At the end of the course, learners may vary in their ability to achieve these outcomes. You are more likely to achieve these outcomes only if you attend class and/or online activities as required by the syllabus, complete the requirements for all assignments to the best of your ability, participate actively in class activities and group work as directed, and study diligently for exams.

XVI. Senior Capstone and Graduate Projects:

The majority of the programs offered by Southwestern College Professional Studies conclude with a Senior Capstone or Graduate Project. During the Capstone or Project course students will be required to retrieve papers, assignments and projects that they created during their entire program of study. For this reason it is imperative that students design a method of storing program course work for use during their final class at Southwestern College Professional Studies.
