I. Course Catalog Description
Working from current and relevant case studies, students will develop the skills to make real-world, real-time decisions.

II. Required and Supplementary Instructional Materials

III. Course Delivery
There are two forms of course delivery Ground and Online:

Ground courses, or those that meet face-to-face on a weekly basis, also have an online component, which means some of the course content is delivered online. Southwestern College utilizes the Blackboard (Bb) learning management system.

Online courses typically contain a blend of synchronous (real-time) and asynchronous (not real-time) material. Depending on the course, you may be required at times to interact “live,” which might mean attending a scheduled Collaborate session. You may also be required to view or listen to a lecture or other video on a specific date and time. Of course, if there are circumstances that prohibit you from logging in to a scheduled synchronous activity, an alternate assignment will be provided. Please refer to the Course at a Glance section which will note any synchronous activities.

IV. Learning Outcomes
Learning outcomes describe the knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes that learners gain as the result of a particular learning experience. Southwestern College Professional Studies has learning outcomes specific to each course and each undergraduate and graduate program of study, as well as institution-wide outcomes related to the mission and vision of the college. Outcomes can help learners and instructors focus on the big picture of the learning experience and can help inform potential employers about a graduate’s knowledge and skills.

Upon successfully completing this course, the learner will be able to:

- Apply and discuss specified leadership model and research on a weekly basis through self-reflection and assessment by means of student learning journals and classroom dialogue;
- Apply of the leadership model utilized in the noted textbook to real-life leadership case by reading a leadership biography that you choose;
- Apply the leadership model utilized in the noted textbook to a leadership-in-action case that you will supply from a leader that you interview;
- Apply the leadership model utilized in this research-based textbook to a personal leadership development plan that will be used as your MSL Portfolio assignment for this course;
- Synthesize and apply knowledge of the above mentioned learning objectives through reflection and application exercises, scholarly writing, and a major paper complete with APA references.

At the end of the course, learners may vary in their ability to achieve these outcomes. You are more likely to achieve these outcomes only if you attend class and/or online activities as required by the syllabus, complete the requirements for all assignments to the best of your ability, participate actively in class activities and group work as directed, and study diligently for exams.

V. Expectations

For this reason it is imperative that students design a method of storing program course work for use during their final class at Southwestern College Professional Studies.
