

Ethics in the Global Marketplace

MGMT560 [all sections]

Southwestern College Professional Studies

COURSE SYLLABUS

I. Course Catalog Description

What are the challenges for an organization to be considered an ethical corporate citizen, locally and globally? How can an organization effectively address those challenges in a diverse global society, economy, and marketplace? Learners will evaluate potential answers to these questions and develop reasoned conclusions through synthesis of current research and case study findings, examination of strategies for fostering and exhibiting ethical reasoning and behavior, corporate social responsibility, and environmental sustainability. Learners also explore the local and global impact of those strategies, inclusive of the impact on societies, cultures, economies, and stakeholder constituencies.

II. Required and Supplementary Instructional Materials

Millar, C., & Poole, E. (Eds.). (2011). Ethical leadership: Global challenges and perspectives. New York, NY: Palgrave MacMillan

III. Course Delivery

There are two forms of course delivery Ground and Online:

Ground courses, or those that meet face-to-face on a weekly basis, also have an online component, which means some of the course content is delivered online. Southwestern College utilizes the Blackboard (Bb) learning management system.

Online courses typically contain a blend of synchronous (real-time) and asynchronous (not real-time) material. Depending on the course, you may be required at times to interact "live," which might mean attending a scheduled Collaborate session. You may also be required to view or listen to a lecture or other video on a specific date and time. Of course, if there are circumstances that prohibit you from logging in to a scheduled synchronous activity, an alternate assignment will be provided. Please refer to the Course at a Glance section which will note any synchronous activities.

IV. Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes describe the knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes that learners gain as the result of a particular learning experience. Southwestern College Professional Studies has learning outcomes specific to each course and each undergraduate and graduate program of study, as well as institution-wide outcomes related to the mission and vision of the college. Outcomes can help learners and instructors focus on the big picture of the learning experience and can help inform potential employers about a graduate's knowledge and skills.

Upon successfully completing this course, the learner will be able to:

- Integrate and apply key business concepts and theories to create and implement solutions for real world organizational challenges.
- Recognize the importance of developing shared goals for an organization's financial and non-financial measurements, policies, and practices to meet strategic plans.
- Assess the value and importance of legal and ethical implications of conducting business in a global environment.
- Exhibit poise and confidence in verbal, interpersonal, and written communication.

- Demonstrate the ability to build and develop continuous learning opportunities in the key areas of business administration.

At the end of the course, learners may vary in their ability to achieve these outcomes. You are more likely to achieve these outcomes only if you attend class and/or online activities as required by the syllabus, complete the requirements for all assignments to the best of your ability, participate actively in class activities and group work as directed, and study diligently for exams.

During the Capstone or Project course students will be required to retrieve papers, assignments and projects that they created during their entire program of study. For this reason it is imperative that students design a method of storing program course work for use during their final class at Southwestern College Professional Studies.
